A Note from Mrs. Atkins

Happy Friday!

Thank you to all the students/families and PTA for donating books to our class. During the book fair we were able to add 9 new titles to our class library!

This week in Social Studies we discussed the role of the Federal Trade Commission (FTC). The FTC is in charge of making sure there is competition in business. Competition in business is great for the consumer. It guarantees that we (the consumer) have access to great quality, great customer service, and a variety of products. We experienced the importance of competition by playing a game called Pizza, Pizza, Pizza. We were introduced to 3 different pizzeria's that sold 3 different types of pizza. Then we were able to choose which one we liked the best based on our needs. You can extend this conversation this weekend by discussing what makes you choose one business over another.

This week in reading we learned how author's can paint pictures with their words. We read chapter 7 (A House by the Sea) of Number the Stars and students were able to use the description that the author gave to draw a picture of the setting. You can extend this over the weekend by finding a descriptive piece of writing and details to draw a matching visual.

That covers everything for this week! Have a safe and fun-filled weekend!

Don't forget to keep collecting and sending in Box Tops!
