A Note from Mrs. Atkins

Happy Friday!!

Class t-shirts are in! I'm so pleased with how well our class t-shirts turned out! I can't wait to see everyone in them. We will wear these t-shirts for Croc Mile on Sept. 22nd. We will also wear them on our first field trip of the year to the NC Zoo on Sept. 28th. Other than that, students may wear them whenever they please!

Thank you all for participating in the PTA's first fundraiser of the year, Go-PlaySave books! We had a 100% participation, which means either you ordered or you returned the unused book! Way to go!

This week in Reading we discussed the difference between first, second, and third person. We learned that although authors use all three points of view, most authors write in either first or third person. First person is when the author uses words like I, me, or we. Second person uses words like you and your, and third person is when the author uses words like he, she, or they. This weekend you can extend this learning by reading some books together as a family and determining whether the book is written in a first, second, or third person point of view.

Please remember that we do not have school this coming Monday, September 4, 2017 in observance of Labor Day.

That covers everything for this week! Have a safe and fun-filled weekend!

Don't forget to keep collecting and sending in Box Tops!

Happy Birthday:

- Sept. 17th— Claire
